

The first thing I do when I have a .pcap file, I export the objects (if they exist). Like in this case, I exported the objects and after a short research, I found out that the first file contains the file, but it's encrypted with ROT13. Decode it with an online tool and you get the flag.

THE FLAG : picoCTF{p33kab00_1_s33_u_deadbeef}
~Z4que